Once upon a time there was a vile curse. Many heroines and heroes, knights of valor, magical wizards, and children of prophecy tried to break the curse. But none could. At last a lone librarian discovered the one true way to free everyone from the curse of the summer doldrums. Many young adults in 6th to 12th grades would need to read 720 minutes in order to lift the curse and discover a life without BOREDOM! Are you courageous enough to attempt reading for 12 hours between June 1st to August 1st 2020? If you are, cross off a book for every 30 minutes you read. When complete bring your log in to the library to receive the reward you richly deserve.
